

Hello to all of you,

I would have liked to send a personal card to each of you to offer my best wishes of the season.... but I ran out of time !

I would have liked to send you a nice montage of the photos and videos taken during the numerous sailing trips of Sacripant.... but I ran out of time !

I would have liked to find a virtual electronic card because I'm thinking of you all in this year end... but I ran out of time !!!

I must conclude that I'm constantly running out of time since I've started to accumulate years at an infernal rythm....,which blinds my seeing time go by.

But running out of time doesn't stop me from thinking about you frequently.

So, quite humbly on this Christmas eve, I'd like to tell you how happy I am that you're part of my life ! And that even though the opportunities to see each other are far and between, you are regularly showing up in my mind. I know it's not a real contact where we can see each other, shake hands, and hug, but it will have to do since life has a way of taking us every which way without either one of us being able to do anything about it.

Of course I would be remissed if I did not avail myself of this moment to introduce my special guess for the last sail of Sacripant this season. On my behalf, he is more than happy to wish you and your families a

Very Merry Christmas & Happy New Year !
